

Truth About Addiction

Drug addiction is not a character flaw.

People find, that once they make the choice, they develop supportive friendships not tied to the addiction

Schools are supportive to those who seek help for their addiction and develop positive attitudes toward you

Making the choice to deal with the addiction as a teen-ager reduces the risk of greater physical, mental and psychological harm

When you make the choice, you will be seen as a success in beating your addiction